AES 115th Convention, 2003

Preliminary Program PDF

The AES returns to New York! The 115th AES Convention, the premier audio event of the year, will explore the latest technological advances in the audio world. A comprehensive showcase of audio technology combined with a stellar line up of papers sessions, tutorials, workshops, technical tours and special events make the AES an invaluable resource for today's audio professional.

While addressing the issues our industry is faced with today, the AES also looks ahead to the future of audio. From breakthroughs in coding technology to the impact surround sound production has on today's mastering engineer, the AES has it covered.
